About Kenneth King:

Haute NYC couture designer, Kenneth King is known among garment sewers as a wonderful teacher and author. He is a regular on www.patternreview.com. King's work is in the permanent collections of museums such as the Victoria and Albert Museum in London. Learn more at <http://www.kennethdking.com.index.html>

WORKSHOP - SATURDAY

This class is devoted to drafting some of the most commonplace skirt silhouettes from measurements. After learning the proper way to measure, students will draft a straight skirt, an A-line skirt, and an A-line skirt with center pleat. This is the perfect introduction to those wishing to build confidence in pattern drafting. Lunch is included.

LECTURE & BOOK SIGNING - FRIDAY

This free-form lecture will cover Kenneth's way of looking at the creative process. The goal is to prepare students to dive in and create in any discipline and all areas of daily life. The process includes exploration, inspiration, mistakes and misfires—all go into the finished work. Kenneth will also be signing copies of his new book, Cool Couture.
